Clinical Nursing Medical Research

6th Symposium of the Swiss Clinical Trial Organisation
Wednesday, 17 June 2015, Kantonsspital St.Gallen

Scientific Programme

Wednesday, 17 June 2015 | 9:30–17:00 | Kantonsspital St.Gallen

Interfaces in clinical research – a convergence of two disciplines

Clinical nursing research has an important role in advancing evidence-based practice. So far, however, there has been rather little interaction with medical clinical research, although synergies are expected. This symposium shows the current state of clinical nursing research and brings together experts from both fields, evaluating the current and future potential and challenges of collaboration.

The symposium slides will be presented in English and the speeches will be held in English or German.
